2. [REDACTED] Rosalee, in the office of Representative Robert Steele (R., Conn.), called and said a constituent had applied to the Agency and was scheduled for an interview on 11 September, but in the meantime received notification that the position was filled from within and the appointment cancelled. Steele's office wondered if this procedure was routine or if there had been a slipup. After checking with the Office of Personnel, I advised Rosalee that the interview set up for [REDACTED] was not a general interview, but for a specific position which had been filled, and that [REDACTED] was still being considered for other positions for which he might qualify. Rosalee thanked me for the clarification and said they would appreciate a note for their files. OP has been advised.
